Band Minstrels Success

Alliance Talent Acquires Itself in Creditable Melange of Music and Fun in Darkey Comedy

Some unsuspected minstrel talent of Alliance made its debut at the Phelan opera house last Friday night when the Alliance Concert band gave its benefit "Dixie Minstrels" under the direction of Charles Roltaire. Above everything else the performance developed the fact that the Alliance band is composed of an unusually talented set of young men. Each and every role was carried through without a hitch, and to those who know the trying ordeal of attempting this sort of thing in the presence of your next door neighbors and friends, the demonstration was rather remarkable.

Charles Roltaire has an easy stage presence which put his associates at ease and the comedy lines were spoken without effort. Earl Hulme, Paul Thomas, Wm. Buchman and Ed. Austin, made very capable end men, and some of their sallies with bits at well known citizens of Alliance, were well received.

The southern melodies as sung by the entire minstrel group were pleasing. Probably the best numbers of the program were "Why Didn't You Say So," a clever little skit by Roltaire and Raymond; "The Wireless Hearphone," J. L. Wehr and Theo. Waddell, in which a number of local personages came in for a grilling; "The Famous Ragamala," a burlesque of a negro ragtime dance, participated in by Roy Trabant, Harold Bearden, Will Edwards, Carl Thomas, Edward Austin and Earl Hulme, and "Hot Air," by Harold Bearden and Horace Anderson.

The closing feature, a dancing scene on a southern plantation, originated by Roltaire, was a good finale for an evening of pleasing fun.

The individual numbers were taking hits. Those participating in exclusive roles were J. L. Wehr, Paul Thomas, Carl Thomas, James Wallace and Earl Hulme. A good sum was realized considering the season. Mr. Roltaire thanked the business men of the city for their liberal support and praised the members of the band for the interest they had taken in the production and the excellent presentation.

The audience was warmly appreciative of each effort and while some of the jokes may have been old and overworked, they were given a new laughing tang that carried them past.

Confetti Case Dismissed

The charge against Merle Holdridge and Frank Fox, continued to Saturday, the 30th, was dismissed without prejudice in police court that afternoon. The boys had been on a vacation trip and returned Friday to be present at the hearing. They were arrested during the recent carnival, charged with disorderly conduct, after throwing confetti on the streets.

There was doubt as to whether or not the city ordinances covered the case, the boys and their counsel contending that they had violated no ordinance. After the matter was thoroughly threshed out and the boys had refused to plead guilty to the charge, it was dismissed by magistrate Zurn, without prejudice.

Modern Woodmen Plan a Big Rally

Head Consul Hon. A. R. Talbot to Be Present—Membership of All Adjoining Camps Invited to Attend

Alliance, Nebraska, 9-28-13.

The committees appointed by the local Woodmen Camp are busily engaged in making arrangements for their Big Rally and Reception to be held at the Gadsby Hall, Wednesday evening, September 10th. Arrangements are being made to hold a big Banquet after the program of the evening. Invitations have been extended to the membership of all adjoining camps; and all visiting Woodmen locally or otherwise are cordially invited to attend and take part in the festivities. A large attendance is expected. Mr. A. R. Talbot, Head Consul of the Society will be present through invitation from the Alliance camp and will address the delegations. The Head Consul will also give a Stereopticon illustrated lecture on the Woodmen Sanatorium for Tuberculosis located at Colorado Springs. This Sanatorium gives absolutely free treatment to members. It is conceded that the Modern Woodmen of America is the largest and most popular Fraternal Beneficiary Society in the United States, with a million members enrolled. The Society has paid to the widows and orphans of dead Woodmen in the aggregate $129,000,000 since date of organization. In the aggregate of $500,000 has been paid in relief payments through voluntary contributions from camps and members. No other Society can boast of this record in so short an experience. This should make every member proud of the Society to which they belong from a humanitarian or fraternal standpoint alike. The officers of the local camp expect to get properly organized for a busy time during the winter months and urge all local members to be in attendance at the meeting Sept. 10th, without fail.—Adv38-2t-2482.
